Things to consider

Thinking about hiring your own caregivers? Avoid the unexpected costs and hidden risks.

Many families who hire their own caregivers don't often realize that there are potential legal and tax consequences that go along with hiring their own employees.

These consequences can be significant, and could have a serious impact on the family and the person receiving care.

Below is a short list of potential Liabilities and abuses:

- Payroll Taxes
- Worker Related Injuries
- Abuse and Exploitation

Talk to one of our Senior Care Managers today, and we can help you avoid these risks.
